

Elijah Bryant

Born in New York, I was raised to be a go-getter no matter what! Over time, discipline, determination, and consistency were the principles that allowed me to focus on what my "WHY" was.

After years of side jobs that kept me "busy" and unproductive, I decided to try my hand at wholesaling real estate. Eventually, it became a carbon copy of what I imagined. With no sales or cold calling experience, I knew I had to change my mindset. I could not let the fear of failure consume me.

Taking the step into Real Estate has been the best thing I have done to release myself from the burden of the employee and become the BOSS. True freedom exists and I want to help you find it. Within my 4 years of real estate I was able to close over 250 deals. I own multiple parcels of land that I plan to build on. I have taught 100's of over students of mine land their first deal. I also have a podcast on YouTube called "EDB Academy" and I highlight my students success.
